

Summer 2018 update

Ian Williams encourages its team to participate in the delivery of community projects and to raise money for charitable causes. Our Foundation is an employee led team that manages the funding we provide for community investment, charitable donations and supports voluntary work nationally. The monetary equivalent of the Foundation's work exceeds £50,000 per annum.

Here's an update of the most recent fund-raising events across the company...

Taking on the mighty Three Peaks Challenge and raising £5,000 for The Stroke Association!

Twelve intrepid climbers and 2 mini-bus support drivers from Ian Williams took on the Three Peaks Challenge on one of the hottest weekends of the year – and they smashed it! Climbing up and down Snowdon, Scafell Pike and Ben Nevis in 24 hours, the team walked a total of 23 miles and climbed a total of more than 3,408 metres, raising a fantastic £5,000 for The Stroke Association.

Tipsy 10 Challenge!

The Tipsy 10 Challenge is an annual event in the village of Ynysybwl and consists of a 10 point orienteering course – with as the name suggests, a drink at each stagepoint!

This year's challenge was to raise money for a young mother with cancer. We were pleased to be able to contribute £250 to this cause.

£1,000 raised for MIND during the hottest London marathon on record

A massive congratulations to our Maidstone Business Support Assistant Diane Tilston who completed what she described as her 'first and last marathon' ever, and raised over £1000 for MIND. Her FitBit showed she completed 62,327 steps – a feat recognised by The Foundation with a £250 contribution.

Riding The Night 2018

More familiar with the day to day challenges of matching people and vacancies, our recruitment officer Olivia Withers cycled 100km from Windsor Racecourse to Buckingham Palace overnight in aid of three cancer charities. She raised a fantastic £745 including a £250 donation from the Foundation.
